Investigate fire, death

Miss Theresa Kichler, 76, of 2217 Grand Ave., was pronounced dead at her home by Deputy Coroner Randall Irwin at 4:45 a.m. Saturday in her fire-damaged home. Irwin said the probable cause of death was smoke inhalation after she had been apparently knocked unconscious.

An autopsy will be performed. She suffered a head injury. The St. Louis Metropolitan Area Major Case Squad was immediately called in to aid Granite City authorities in investigating the death.

A special arson team also is investigating the fire. It was believed that the house was set afire in two separate places.

Miss Kichler was found on the floor between the living room and bathroom.

It was considered doubtful that the head injury resulted from a fall.

Granite City firemen were called to the scene at 4:23 a.m. Saturday and had to force their way into the home.

Fires were found smoldering in the bedroom and living room, and the house was filled with smoke.

A fire in the living room had burned a large hole in the floor near the front door, about 10 feet from Miss Kichler's body. There were papers scattered around the fire in both the living room and bedroom.

Investigators have been unable to determine how long the fire may have smoldered before it was discovered, but they believe the initial break-in could have occurred as early as 7 p.m. Friday.

Her body was removed from the home immediately; an autopsy showed she had suffered a skull fracture and several head cuts.

While smoke inhalation is suspected as the cause of death, Miss Kichler also could have died as the result of the head

Republican candidates' list growing

Madison county Republicans' candidate list continues to grow as the party endeavors to fill openings on the Nov. 2 general election ballot.

William Charles Evers III, 31, Collinsville, a former assistant U. S. attorney, will run for state's attorney, the county GOP chairman, Dr. Edward Ragdale, said Friday.

A lifelong resident of Madison County, Evers was born in Alton and received degrees from Blackburn College and the University of Kansas.

As an assistant U. S. attorney for the Eastern District of Illinois from 1972 until February 1976, Evers specialized in narcotics, violent crimes, immigration and civil problems.

It was announced earlier that Vernon Schulte, an Edwardsville businessman, will run for clerk of the circuit court.

Dr. Robert Lynn of Alton has replaced Hugh Hairston of Venice, the lone Republican primary candidate, for the office of coroner.

The coroner, circuit clerk and state's attorney positions are held by Democrats who are seeking re-election.

In an unrelated development, the Illinois Board of Elections certified Eugene McCarthy on Friday to appear on the Presidential ballot as an independent candidate. The board waived a requirement that he list a vice president candidate and aspirants for state offices.

Parties to suit say they didn't give their okay

Two persons and a corporation listed as plaintiffs on a lawsuit filed to halt sanitary sewers in Nameoki and Chouteau Townships say they are not involved in the suit and did not authorize their names to be used in the suit.

Bob Douglas and the Canal Motel, Inc., and Jim Williams, all listed as plaintiffs on the request for temporary and permanent injunctions to halt sale of bonds for the sewers, told the Press-Record, "We are not suing anybody and do not want to sue anybody."

Douglas said he is "all for sewers in this area." He would prefer revenue bonds, repaid by user fees, rather than general obligation bonds which are repaid by taxes. But he doesn't want to sue to block GO bonds.

Williams agreed, saying he does not feel taxation to pay for sewers is fair to the people, but

Favor McBride to succeed Abel

Lloyd McBride, former head of the United Steelworkers of America union office here, is now the frontrunner to replace retiring I.W. Abel as president of the 1.4-million-member Steelworkers union and is believed likely to emerge victorious in several policy debates at the union's convention opening today in Las Vegas, Nev.

In pre-convention meetings Thursday night, McBride became the clear-cut candidate of the USW leadership after a compromise agreement with Steelworkers Vice-President John S. Johns, who also had been seeking the presidential nod.

The compromise places McBride at the top of the administration-backed ticket and opens up two new top-echelon posts by splitting the secretary-treasurer post and by creating a second vice-presidential post.

William Moran of Bethlehem, Pa., who had been on Johns' slate as candidate for secretary-treasurer, will run for the new secretary position on the McBride slate.

Another of Johns' supporters—possibly Leon Lynch of Atlanta—will run for the new vice-presidential spot.

Both Johns and McBride had offered to step down in the interest of unity, rather than splitting the present administration's support in half and perhaps letting an anti-

District church leader resigns

The Rev. Dr. Herman F. Neunaber, 57, Bellview, president of the Southern Illinois District (SID) of The Lutheran Church — Missouri Synod (LCMS), one of several so-called "moderate" district presidents in the Synod, resigned Friday, effective Aug. 31, in protest of "current directions" in the 2,800,000-member church body.

After accepting Dr. Neunaber's resignation, the district's board of directors called for "a peaceful division" of the district "to separate conflicting groups in the most loving way."

Dr. Neunaber's resignation came in the wake of months of dispute in the district, capped last week by a ruling from the Missouri Synod's constitutional commission that district presidents "cannot retain their synodical district office while functioning in any way in any movement creating or encouraging the creation of ecclesiastical organizations in opposition to the Synod."

Dr. Neunaber disagreed with the ruling and, in a statement to the district board, said "there is no longer any possibility of fulfilling this office freely and conscientiously."

Along with several other LCMS district presidents, he has supported discussions about the possibilities of district congregations severing their ties to the Missouri Synod if they no longer felt that they could support that church body.

Dr. Neunaber told the board "The time has come, therefore, when I am compelled to leave office. I am being ousted by the coercion of human bylaws, not by that free choice which stems from evangelical and brotherly persuasion."

What a synodical convention could not do, what the president of the Synod could not do through debates in the district and in our district convention, a ruling by a synodical committee can do and has done. I am coerced into resigning from office, not by my choice, but by the power of men."

The resignation decision came six months after the district voted 85-70 to support Dr. Neunaber's presidency and commended his stance. For several years, however, a conservative group has sought his removal from office because

Arrest follows long chase

A 16-year-old West Granite youth was in custody Friday at Granite City police headquarters facing 14 local charges and awaiting further action by four other police departments.

The charges result from a high speed chase in which the car operated by the youth reportedly reached speeds in excess of 100 mph and went through three roadblocks set up by police between Granite City and 37th Street in East St. Louis.

The youth eluded officers, but was arrested at 4:30 a.m. Friday at his home.

Patrolling officers recognized the youth, who is on probation, in an auto at the rear of the 2000 block of Grand Avenue at 3:12 a.m. Friday.

Suspecting the youth had no driver's license (he became 16 on July 1), the officers attempted to halt the vehicle on Madison Avenue at 25th Street.

At that point, the driver started to flee from the squad car, taking a winding route through the residential area near Sacred Heart Church and working southeast toward Nameoki Road and East 2nd Street. He continued driving east to Highway 162 and along it to Highway 111, with the local police still in pursuit.

Pontoon Beach police, meanwhile, had set up a roadblock on Highway 162 near the intersection of Highway 111, but the driver sped through and turned south on 111 to Route 40. It was along this stretch of highway that police said the youth's auto was traveling in excess of 100 mph.

Fairmont City Police Department had established a roadblock on Highway 111 at Route 40. Again the driver drove through the block, made a jog on 40 and continued on 111 into Washington Park.

Washington Park police had set up a roadblock at Highway 111 and Forest Boulevard. Officers said when the driver went through the block a shot was fired from the fleeing auto. The officers had their guns 111, but the driver sped through

Mississippians once in region

(70th of a Bicentennial year Press-Record series)

About 1000 A.D., Indians of the Mississippian culture began to spread northward from their center at Cahokia Mounds here into present-day Fulton County.

Of the culture they represented for the next 900 years, present-day archaeologists have discovered several thousand mound and village sites in Fulton County alone—as well as eight central towns along the Illinois River starting at Peoria and equally spaced downstream for 80 miles.

Small in comparison to Mississippian centers in Southern Illinois, the towns usually had only a single platform mound and a central plaza surrounded by an occupational area.

They covered an average of 10 to 15 acres.

The Mississippian culture people crowded in with what is known as the late Woodland cultural group in the more attractive town sites, but the two lived in relative harmony.

The people dwelled in small earthen houses, some of which were clearly devoted to religious purposes.

Objects found at the confluence of the Spoon and the Illinois rivers indicate that trade provided continued contacts with Cahokia, which greatly influenced the hunting-farming-based culture of the northern settlement.

Most famous of the sites is Cahokia Mounds, a burial place established around 1000 A.D. with peak usage between 1100 and 1250 A.D. and few burials after 1300 A.D.

The Dickson Cemetery Mound is located about three miles southeast of Lewistown on the eastern edge of the region, a gently rolling plain and high on a point of the Illinois River bluff, more than 90 feet above the valley floor, providing a view of the Illinois and Spoon river valleys to the east and the south.

The end of three centuries of prehistoric activity at Cahokia coincided with the decline of the Cahokia Mounds area.

It remains unknown if

Nunn tours with rock group

Robin Nunn of Granite City has joined the rock group "Kiss" on a six-week tour. Nunn, a theater major at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, worked with the group during its recent appearance at Kiel Auditorium, St. Louis, and has been hired as their chief lighting technician.

Kiss will be appearing in several of the western states before ending its summer tour in New York and Montreal, Canada.

Nunn is a graduate of Granite City High School South and has appeared locally with Masquers, Inc.—most recently as Lt. Joe Cable in South Pacific.

While at SIU, Nunn has divided his time equally between on and off stage chores. He has done work in the area of lighting design, a field not often open to undergraduates.

Also a member of the SIU Concert Chorale, Nunn has traveled with it each year on its annual tour.

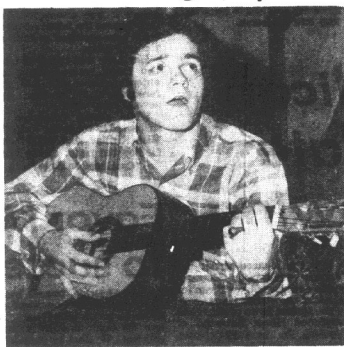

In 1974, the Chorale traveled through Europe to Vienna and this year appeared in Boston and Philadelphia as part of its Bicentennial Concert Tour.

During the earlier part of this summer, Nunn worked as a theater technician at Kiel Auditorium, the Muni Opera and the Mississippi River Festival.

After completing summer and fall tours with Kiss, Nunn plans to return to SIUE to complete his senior year.

$1,000 AUTO FIRE

A passerby opened a door on the auto of Majorie Boklin of Belleville last week and discovered the car's interior ablaze while it was parked near Highway 162 and East 23rd Street. Firemen on the scene 40 minutes estimated loss to the auto at $1,000.

ROBIN NUNN of Granite City, who is on tour with the rock-music group Kiss as the group's chief lighting technician. The act features startling and unusual lighting effects to highlight its music. Nunn is a student at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

drawn at this point, it was learned. The driver continued to travel down Forest to 37th Street in East St. Louis, where police from that department had converged. Before 37th Street the car being pursued apparently turned off the main street and was lost, the GC police report stated.

The youth was arrested a short time later at his home. Local charges against him include reckless driving, speeding, fleeing and eluding police, nine stop sign violations, curfew violation and having no driver's license.

Additional charges are expected to be filed from the other police departments involved, local authorities said.

that he had nothing to do with plans for a lawsuit against Madison County seeking to halt the project. Each donated $50 to Mrs. Ruth Andrews, another of the plaintiffs on the suit document filed in Madison County Circuit Court. But they said they did not know the money was going to be used to file a suit.

They said the money was donated to help Mrs. Andrews and others opposed to general obligation bonds to file a means to change the project to one financed by revenue bonds. County officials said there is no way the work can be done with revenue bonds.

Bicentennial

collapse was due to religious or political change, warfare, major climatic shift or disease.

Recent speculation is that the Cahokia people who founded the Dickinson settlement eventually brought plague to the area, for the final burials in the Dickinson Cemetery Mound included large numbers of mass graves.

Shortly afterward, newcomers from the Oneota culture arrived and attracted the remnants of the population.

But in a few generations they too were gone, leaving the area a cultural void.

William Dickinson, who migrated from Kentucky in the late 1830s and settled the land that included Dickinson Mounds, discovered human bones when preparing the land for an orchard in the 1860s.

Don Dickson of the same family made the first scientific excavation in the late 1920s, exposing more than 200 burial sites in the following years.

The family constructed a small building over the main site soon after.

But because it was the first place where prehistoric materials were left in place for viewing, tourist traffic became a problem.

The site was sold to the state of Illinois in 1945.

It exists as a reminder that the Illinois plains supported life and culture for many hundreds of years before Europeans arrived.

Dickson Mounds represents only a part of the prehistoric saga, but the plow and the bulldozer periodically threaten to wipe out the remaining record at Dickinson.

Driver ticketed in 3-car mishap

A three-car collision on Madison Avenue at 29th Street at 12:55 p.m. Thursday, resulted in a minor injury to the driver of one vehicle and a traffic citation issued to another.

Jerry W. Burkett, 1657 Second St., Madison, was reported to have sustained an injury.

The other car operators were Katherine M. Brnjac of St. Louis and David A. Long, 2300 Edwards St., who was charged with following too closely.

YOUTH, 17, CHARGED

Samuel Apponyi, 17, of 2038 Sken St., Madison, was charged with contributing to the delinquency of a minor and illegal transportation of liquor at 6:35 p.m. Thursday, when officers allegedly saw him in a parked auto at Iron and Carr streets with an 11-year-old Madison girl. Two open quarts of beer were in view in the auto, police said.

Libertarians want to end state income tax

A call to end the Illinois income tax was issued Saturday by the Libertarian Party of the state.

On Aug. 2, the party filed 40,593 petition signatures with the Illinois Board of Elections to qualify national and statewide state for ballot status.

The total gave the Libertarians a greater number of petition signatures than any other independent political party seeking ballot status in the Nov. 2 general election, a party spokesman said.

As "a matter of principle," the party believes that "taxation is theft."

Libertarians do not distinguish any moral difference between "a legislature enslaving a portion of the population because of race or national origin and a legislature assessing taxes under threat of imprisonment on those members of society who have income."

To end the "immorality," the Libertarian budget committee has prepared a 1977 alternative budget for Illinois. It would cut $2.1 billion in state expenditures from Governor Walker's budget.

The proposed alternative budget eliminates 11 departments and agencies of state government.

Department of Mental Health.

Department of Children and Family Services.

Governor's Traffic Safety Coordinating Commission.

Dangerous Drugs Commission.

Department of Business and Economic Development.

Department of Insurance.
State Fair Agency.
Industrial Commission.
Institute for Environmental Quality.

Commission on Delinquency Prevention.

And the Illinois Arts Council.

The Libertarian budget also would make substantial cuts in 12 others:

State Board of Education.

State Board of Higher Education.

Department of Public Aid.

Department of Transportation.

Department of Revenue.

Department of Conservation.

Department of General Services.

Department of Personnel.

Department of Veterans' Affairs.

Department of Agriculture.

Department of Corrections.

And the Environmental Protection Agency.

The party said, "The elimination of the Illinois income tax will be the first step in a Libertarian effort to end immorality in state government."

"It will get government out of the wallets and personal lives of the people. The alternative budget is a step to remove the coercive force of government from individual lives."

Cofferdam removal to end on Sept. 15

A notice to mariners, issued by the commander, Second Coast Guard District, St. Louis, announces that the Corps of Engineers' St. Louis District advises that repairs to the main lock at Locks and Dam 27 (Chain of Rocks Canal) have been completed. However, the lower approach will continue to be blocked by equipment engaged in removing cofferdam cells.

During this period, the main lock will be closed to traffic 12 hours a day, seven days a week, until the work is completed about Sept. 15.

The notice continues:

"Lockage is limited to 70-foot-wide traffic when the main lock is open."

"When possible and when traffic backlog is such that excessive delays are not developing, the main lock may be closed for a 24-hour period so that the contractor will not lose mobilization and demobilization time for his equipment."

"This should facilitate removal operations. The decision to open the main lock after a 12-hour shutdown will be made on a daily basis.

"The auxiliary lock will remain open and a helper boat will be available for double lockages."

"Additional towboat assistance may be required when both locks are open because of the 70-foot width limitation necessary for removal of the cofferdam at the downstream approach to the main lock."

"All tows entering and exiting the lower approach to the auxiliary lock are requested to hold their wake to a minimum when passing the construction activity."

"Safety of sheet pile removal operations depends on the floating crane, which is adversely affected by high-speed and large-wave entries and exits."

"The Corps has advised that

JOHNSON QUALIFIES

David W. Johnson has qualified as a registered representative of John Hancock Distributors, Inc., broker-dealer for John Hancock mutual funds. A member of the National Association of Securities Dealers, JHID is a subsidiary of John Hancock Mutual Life Insurance Co. Johnson is associated with the insurance company's Allentown district office in Granite City.

To meet federal and state requirements for securities salesmen, he has passed the national qualifying examination and complied with all Illinois regulations.

The above procedures have been coordinated with towing industry representatives.

"These procedures are felt to be the most effective to open Locks 27 to full traffic capacity at the earliest possible date. Cooperation of all vessel operators is necessary for the safe and efficient use of Locks 27."

Community-School concept urged

"There is a strong urgency to take seriously the 'Community-Schools' concept to use school facilities after school hours to provide programs for youth and adults," Harold R. Rudolph, executive director of the Tri-City Area YMCA, told the Wednesday noon meeting of the Madison-Venice Rotary Club in the Madison Recreation Center.

Rudolph addressed his remarks to observations and needs of leisure-time facilities and programs in the area.

In urging the utilization of the "Community-School" concept, Rudolph said, "The need for using this concept is especially true when a person realizes the tremendous investment the community has in facilities that are not being used to their maximum."

Swimming pools are considerably below standard for our area, especially since only a 20 by 50 foot pool is available for year-around use," Rudolph said.

"Many children and adults do not get the opportunity to learn to swim and need to travel to participate in swim teams."

With the closing of the John Marshall outdoor shooting range, leaving only the Venice Police department range, which is not open to public. There is a definite lack of a shooting range when you consider the large number of hunting enthusiasts in the community.

"Gyms and basketball courts are considerably below standard and many of the school gyms are outdated for other than small children to use. With the large number of children and adults wanting to use good gyms for games, the demand for more adequate facilities will continue," he said.

Based on the National Park and Recreation Standards, our area should have six 25 meter swimming pools. We have one indoor pool and one private outdoor pool. We should have three 50-meter pools and we have one outdoor pool at Wilson Park.

"The largest program participation is in softball, soccer, baseball and basketball, which will mean a strong demand for facilities such as more lighted fields, more and larger gyms."

"There is a real need for

'drop-in' centers. One for junior high youth and one for senior high youth that involves the youth in planning of decor, equipment and activity. Good staff leadership along with sensitive volunteers are essential."

"There is an unusually large number of senior citizen groups in the community, with 21 of them, which is clear evidence of the growth of the population. There is little coordination of effort and little program planning in this area. There is a need for more variety of activity such as travel, crafts, volunteer experiences and some staff to help develop it," Rudolph noted.

CHARGED IN WARRANTS

The wedding of Miss Maureen Nolan, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard G. Nolan, 3020 Delmar Ave. and Mike Doherty, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Doherty of Collinsville, was solemnized on Aug. 21 at Sacred Heart Catholic Church.

Prior to and during the service Dennis Brewer sang, "Annie's Song," "And I Love Her," "If" and "Time In A Bottle." He was accompanied by David Nolan, a brother of the bride and Pat Foley on guitars who also played "Till Walk In The Rain," "Sunrise, Sunset," and "Wedding Song."

Yellow mum plants and greenery adorned the altar for the double ring ceremony performed by the Rev. James Newman at two o'clock in the afternoon.

Escorted down the white carpeted aisle and given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a full length white gown, fashioned with a square neckline edged in lace and puffed sleeves.

She wore a halo of baby's breath entwined with violet statice in her hair and she carried a colonial bouquet of dried summer flowers.

Miss Nancy Nolan, a sister of the bride, was honor attendant. She chose a long violet gingham dress similar to the bride gown.

MR. AND MRS. DANIEL NEMETH whose wedding took place at St. Elizabeth Catholic Church. Formerly Miss Rhonda Roberts, the bride is a daughter of Mrs. Mildred Roberts, 2214 Amos Ave. and the late Ivor Roberts.

Miss Rhonda Roberts and Daniel Nemeth are wed

The wedding of Miss Rhonda Roberts, daughter of Mrs. Mildred Roberts, 2214 Amos Ave. and the late Ivor Roberts, and Daniel Nemeth, a son of Mrs. Margaret Nemeth, 2734 Myrtle Ave. and the late Joseph Nemeth, was solemnized on Aug. 14 at St. Elizabeth Catholic Church.

Palms, wedding banners and burning tapers provided the setting for the 11:30 a.m. double ring nuptial mass celebrated by the Rev. Kenneth Becker. A selection of music was provided by Karen Fisher, organist, and soloist Sandy Baker.

Escorted to the altar by her mother, the bride wore a gown of candlelight ivory, the czarina bodice featured an open "V" neckline and long full sleeves which terminated in lace applied cuffs. The full skirt, merging into an attached semi-cathedral train, was encircled at the hemline with a band of Venice lace flourettes.

A canopied cap of ivory Venise lace secured her waltz length veil. She carried a bouquet of stephanotis, blue cornflowers, baby's breath and ivy.

Attending the bride were Mrs. Diane Korcos, a sister of the groom, as matron of honor, Mrs. Joan Roberts, the brides sister-in-law, Miss Leslie Roberts, niece of the bride, and Mrs. Carla Petrillo. They chose Empire style gowns of ivory with tiny blue floral designs. Fashioned with ruffled V-necklines, they were worn with short ruffle trimmed caplets.

Each carried a rosegay of blue cornflowers, statice, baby's breath and ivy and wore sprigs of baby's breath in their hair. The offertory was carried by Greg Roberts, a nephew of the bride, and Dianah and Danette Korcos, nieces of the groom. Mrs. Joan Roberts, the brides sister-in-law, and his family and Mrs. Clifton Egbert all of Eau Claire.

and were blue with blue floral designs. The groom chose his brother-in-law, Richard Korcos, as best man. Leonard Roberts, brother of the bride, Michael Eliff and Jerry Petrillo served as groomsmen. Ray Leonard, Uncle of the bride, and Joe Nemeth, brother of the groom, seated the guests.

Chris Roberts, nephew of the bride, and Mike Niemeyer served as acolytes at mass. For her daughters wedding, Mrs. Roberts selected a formal gown in a soft shade of peach, with long sheer sleeves and a pleated skirt. The grooms mother was attired in a long, pink, lace accented shirwaist style gown. Both wore carnation corsages.

Guests were received during an evening reception at the American Legion hall. Attending the guest book was Karen Roberts, a niece of the bride. A rehearsal dinner was held at the home of the grooms mother. Both the bride and groom are Granite City South High School graduates. The bride has been employed as an executive secretary at the First National Bank in St. Louis. The groom attended Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville and is employed in Houston, Tex., where they are now residing.

Briggs in goal for South soccer debut; 107-10 past record

Warrior soccer mentor Gene Baker reports his team's starting lineup is nearly complete for Wednesday season opener here at 3:30 p.m. with Waterloo High.

GCHS South's nine players assigned positions thus far are all returning lettermen with the exception of Barry Briggs, a junior goalkeeper.

"Briggs is in the goalie spot for the first time ever," says Baker. "He has proven himself in practice sessions and has the physical size and ruggedness to handle the job."

Two defensive positions are still available, the coach noted.

"John Prazma and Fred Schuler," said Baker, "are prime candidates for the two spots."

Filling forward positions for South are Rick Fernandez and Rick Becherer. Both are seniors and team tri-captains.

Senior Dave Mottrie is slated for the wing fullback position. Juniors Mark and David Goldschmidt will be strikers along with junior Joe Theis to spearhead scoring efforts for the team.

Mark Goldschmidt last year netted 19 goals and David Goldschmidt 12. In the backfield will be juniors Gary Phelps and Greg Feigl.

Since soccer was initiated at the school in 1970, South High has won 107 games, lost 10 and tied 11 contests under three different coaches.

Tom Wyrostek led the first team to a 12-1-4 season and in 1971 John Sellmeyer's Warriors earned a near perfect 19-0-1 season before capturing the first-ever state championship in 1972. Sellmeyer's history-making 1972 squad posted a 21-1-2 record.

Prior to the 1973 season, current Coach Gene Baker took the reins.

Baker's first season at South saw the Warriors post a 19-2-1 record and take third place in the state finals.

In 1974, the squad narrowly lost a bid for a state birth, losing in sectional play to GCHS North and ended the season with a 17-3-1 mark, including 15 straight wins going into the sectional title game.

The 1975 Warriors had a 19-3-2 record, being eliminated at the state meet in first-round competition.

WARMING UP for their early morning run are the members of the Granite City High School South cross-country team as they prepare for the two and one half mile course around Wilson Park and the South grounds.

Corey, Clay, Jateff bolster football outlook for Steelers

Coach Tom Wyrostek's Steelers football team again has a tough act to follow, "due to last year's success, and has toiled through rugged pre-season practice sessions in order to prepare for the task."

Looming large in the North High School planning is senior Greg Corey in the quarterback slot.

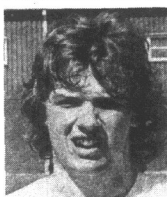

The coach believes Corey's throwing arm looks strong, and notes that the athlete kept himself physically strong throughout the summer vacation.

Standing at 6-0 and weighing 175 pounds, Corey helped lead the Steelers to a 6-3-1 season last year.

"He led the area in passing last season," says Wyrostek, "passing 190 times with only six interceptions and gaining more than 1,400 yards in the air."

Corey also kicked 16 extra points and two field goals last season and himself ran for three touchdowns as he tallied 40 points.

Missing from this year's North team is Larry Schleicher, who was the recipient last season of 44 Corey passes for 756 yards. He graduated this spring and is at Maryville, Mo., doing what comes naturally—playing football for the Bears.

Among those attempting to fill Schleicher's shoes as a receiver and ball carrier is Senior Fred Clay.

"We haven't put Clay on the clocks," says Wyrostek, "but unofficially if he gets any faster he'll need wings."

Senior Bruce Jateff is seeking to again be the team's busiest ball carrier. Last season, he carried 122 times for 444 yards and three touchdowns.

North High has omitted three schools from its 1976 schedule—Mater Dei of Breese, East St. Louis Assumption and O'Fallon—and has added Cahokia and Roxana. The Steelers have one playing date open—Friday, Oct. 8.

The Steelers' 1976 grid schedule:

GCHS North golfers opened the school's 1976 season on the front nine holes, par 36, 1 Lebanon Thursday, losing by six strokes, 166-172.

Russ Chappell Jr. was low scorer for the Steelers with a 40. Dan Harper had 43, Mike Cella 44 and George Bartz 45.

Scuba diving offered

The Tri-City Area YMCA will offer a nationally YMCA certified course in scuba diving this fall, residents are being reminded. In order to qualify, one has to demonstrate comfort in the water and have basic swimming ability.

The instructor will be Phil Deming. The class will start on Sept. 12 and will be held on Sundays from 5 to 9 p.m. It will last approximately eight weeks.

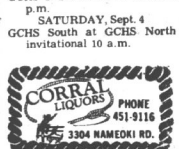

Eligible are adults as well as youngsters 12 to 15 years old; the latter may obtain their junior diver certificate.

Certifications are the "Y", PADI, AHA and the nationally known NAUI upon successful completion of the course.

Cost is $50 for members and $65 for non-members. The textbook and equipment are furnished. Those interested may contact Program Director Don Bains at the "Y," 676-7290, or Phil Deming at 1-314-352-2436 for more information.

Three Missouri schools have been added to the Trojans' fall card—St. Genevieve, Warrenton and Washington—along with Eldorado High of Illinois.

Injuries hamper soccer Steelers; Quincy first foe

GCHS North's soccer season is not scheduled to open on the varsity level until Saturday at Quincy High School but there already is concern. Pre-season injuries may have reduced the Steelers' power.

Coach Robert Kehoe who has headed the school's soccer program since North High opened its doors in 1973, started the season with 15 returning letterman ready to apply their knowledge and skill against opposing schools.

"I'm not sure where we stand now," Kehoe says in noting that five of the returnees are sidelined with injuries, along with other potential varsity players.

Among those sidelined with twisted ankles, pulled muscles or severe blisters are such athletes as seniors Steve Steles, Robert Yount and Tony Carden and juniors Cliff Stefanoff and Eric Painter.

"They were slated for starting positions," said Kehoe. "Now it all depends on how quickly they recover from these injuries."

"Steles was to play center-back again this season. Last year, he was important to our defense with his speed and aggressiveness."

Steles has developed a severe heel blister.

Suffering from a pulled muscle is freshman Glen Edwards, whom Kehoe believes had a good chance of making the starting lineup until he was injured.

"We still have many experienced players who are healthy," the coach related. "But it is likely that several inexperienced athletes will see action in our opener."

North's appearance on the high school soccer scene in the fall of 1973 gave warning to other area powerhouses in the sport that the Steelers were potential contenders for the state title.

Kehoe's team posted a 15-3-1 record the first year and then in 1974 won the sectional championship and placed fifth at the state to end with a 26-4 mark.

Last year, North was denied a second straight state berth when the Steelers lost to GCHS South in the sectional title game. North had a 12-10-3 soccer mark in 1975.

Invitational features 10-harrier teams

GCHS North opens its 1976 cross-country season tomorrow in a four-school invitational meet on Alton High School's three-mile hilly course with Belleville West, Lebanon and the host school.

Normally a meet calls for seven representatives of each participating school, but Steeler mentor Pete Robinson notes that tomorrow's competition will include 10 harriers from each of the four schools.

"We have been practicing running hills at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville," says Robinson, "so we should be well prepared."

He believes the meet will be a confrontation for first-place honors between Alton's Randy Adler and North High's Mike Baker.

"The two are among the strongest runners in this region. Last season, both met seven times in competition, with Baker winning four times and Baker three."

The coach said both athletes have similar running styles. "The two are what we call front-runners, meaning that they attempt to get out in front as soon as possible and set the pace for the field."

Two of North's regular runners are ready to start—Don Lucy and Greg Stout. But two others who earned valuable team points last season may miss the opener.

Dave Ebrecht is still a bit out of shape, having joined the team late last week. John Bracamontes is suffering with back soreness.

"We don't look to be at full strength until after the season is a couple of weeks old," Robinson believes.

Vans win, will oppose Mercer nine

Defending Illinois Inter-City Baseball League playoff champions, the East Alton Vans, will meet 1976 season champion Mercer Mortuary at 1 p.m. Sunday, Sept. 5, in a two-game series to decide the 1976 series championship.

The Vans split a doubleheader last week with Highland-Pierron, necessitating a third contest yesterday between the two clubs in which the Vans won 12-4.

Pitcher Stan Hawkins went the distance and sparked the Vans in the second inning with a two-run homer. Gerald Schmidt also hit a two-run homer in that inning, and Don Broadway had a solo home run.

In the event, Vans and Mercer split next Sunday, a third game will be played in East Alton on Labor Day, Monday, Sept. 6.

Corbin, Wallace win

The defending sportsman stock car division champion at Tri-City Speedway came out here Saturday evening for the first time since July, when his race car was found not in conformity with the racing rules. Mike Wallace picked up where he left off, winning first his heat race and then the 15-lap feature race.

East Alton's C.C. Corbin was the late model division feature race victor.

Wallace started in the 16th position on the quarter-mile track, and after two yellow caution flags powered his way into the lead on the sixth lap, never to be headed.

Jerry Zehnle was second. Kris Krohn third, John Wolfmeyer fourth and Kyle Krohn fifth.

Kris Krohn, current point leader, won a heat race and gained 180 points Saturday.

Granite City Dan Aerne, second in point standings, earned 100 points. Krohn now has 2,725 and Aerne 2,510.

Finishing in order behind Corbin in the late model division main event were Russ Wallace, Wil Spalding of Pontoon Beach and Bill Myers.

Other late model race winners were: Len Gittermeier, Matt Davis and Ed Kuebel, heat races; Russ Wallace, trophy dash, and Spalding, semi-main event.

The American Motorcycle Association-sanctioned weekly racing program will conclude the season with championship cycle racing tomorrow at 7 p.m. at Tri-City.

A regular motorcycle racing program will be held, followed by a championship race with only riders in the top ten of the point standings competing.

Henry Hempen, 67, dies

Henry Hempen Sr., 67, of 2911 Oregon Ave., a retired linotype operator, was pronounced dead upon arrival at St. Elizabeth Hospital at 5:30 a.m. Sunday.

Mr. Hempen, who lived at the home of his daughter, apparently suffered a massive heart attack while seated at the kitchen table.

He was taken by ambulance to the hospital, where he had been a patient in the intensive care unit in June.

Mr. Hempen had been employed 53 years as a linotype operator at Warwick Typographers, St. Louis, prior to retiring. He was a member of St. Louis Typographical Union No. 8.

He was born and reared in St. Louis and lived there until moving to Granite City in 1969. His wife, Mrs. Ann Katherine Hempen, died in 1969. He was a member of St. Joseph Catholic Church here.

Surviving are one daughter, Mrs. Alfred (Barbara) Calkins, 1532 Third St., Madison, and Maurice Horton, who attended East St. Louis High School.

Venice all-American Ron Henry transfers from Kansas State to McKendree cage team

Two highly-rated area athletes, Ron Henry and Maurice Horton, have signed basketball letters of intent to enroll at McKendree College in Lebanon in September.

Henry, who in 1973 paced Venice High School to a third-place finish in the Illinois state tournament, is transferring to McKendree from Kansas State University, where he played two years on the junior varsity.

While at Venice, Henry averaged 23.2 points and 23.2 points and 12.6 rebounds per game his junior season and 24.7 points and 12.8 rebounds per game his senior year, connecting on better than 67 percent of his shots in both campaigns.

The six-foot-eight, 220-pound center tallied 1,783 points and 1,036 rebounds in three seasons with the varsity Red Devils.

He was named to the all-American and all-state teams in his junior and senior years and was honored by all area papers as a first-team selection both years.

While an outstanding basketball player, Horton was better known for his baseball talents. The Detroit Tigers drafted the hard-hitting shortstop in 1971, his senior year at East St. Louis High School, and Horton spent four years in the organization's minor league system. He had his best season while with the Lakeland Tigers of the Florida State League when he hit .320 and led the league in stolen bases with 41.

"Ron Henry is certainly the type of player we need to compete with the stronger teams on our schedule," McKendree Coach Harry Statham told the Press-Record.

Obviously pleased with Henry's decision to transfer from Kansas State, Statham said, "He is a definite threat inside and a strong rebounder. Ron could be the answer to the front court problem we've experienced in the last few seasons."

"Horton has excellent quickness and a good desire to play. He's more mature than most recruits."

"I'm anxious to see what Maurice and Ron can do for us since both were members of state tournament teams."

Statham indicated that he may prefer to have Henry sit out the 1976-77 season so that he would have two full years of eligibility with McKendree. "It really depends on how we do in the upcoming year."

The Bearcats will have four of last year's five starters from a 17-9 club returning, including all-American candidate Dale Haverman and seniors Gary Vandoloo, Chuck Renner and Mike Schaulat.

North has veteran cross-country team

Coach Pete Robinson's Steeler harriers are preparing for the 1976 cross-country season opener at Alton tomorrow with nine returning lettermen.

North High has unusual depth — a large number of freshman and sophomore athletes.

"This is the first season since GCHS North opened its doors in 1973," says Robinson, "that we won't have to worry about not having anyone to replace a cross-country regular, if necessary."

About 40 runners have been reporting for daily practice sessions since Aug. 18.

Heading the list of returnees, all of whom aided in the team's sectional championship last year, are seniors Don Lucy, Dave Ebrecht and Dave Peters.

Back also are juniors John Bracamontes, Greg Stout, Mike Baker, Ed Futch, Mike Johas and George Bush.

"Our strongest part of the team is the maturity of our lettermen. Each is bigger and stronger," the coach reports.

North has five dual meets scheduled and 11 multiple school meets on the agenda, the latter including tomorrow's four-school competition at Alton.

GCHS North's 1976 schedule:

SEPTEMBER
2—GCHS South here 4 p.m.
4—school GCHS North invitational 10 a.m.
6—St. Paul of Highland and Cahokia here 4:30 p.m.
8—at St. Paul invitational 4 p.m.
11—at Belleville West invitational 10 a.m.
15—at Triad (St. Jacob-Troy-Marine) invitational 4:30 p.m.
20—at Mater Dei of Breese 4 p.m.
25—at Edwardsville invitational 10 a.m.
28—Triad here 4 p.m.
30—Edwardsville here 4 p.m.

OCTOBER
2—at Springfield invitational 10:30 a.m.
8—at Waterloo invitational 4 p.m.
9—at Jacksonville invitational 1 p.m.
25—at Belleville West 4 p.m.
30—District meet

The coach said cross-country interest has been expressed by students, but there is a problem in scheduling competition.

"We can arrange meets with many schools which have a larger student population than Madison, but then we would be at a disadvantage."

"I'm attempting to contact schools that are about equal to Madison in enrollment," Laster related.

Summer graduation on Thursday

The awarding of an honorary doctor of music degree to Benny Goodman and a posthumous specialist degree in secondary education to an Air Force captain will take place during summer commencement ceremonies at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville Thursday.

More than 1,100 graduates will receive degrees during the exercises, which will begin at 7 p.m. at the Outdoor Performing Arts Facility on the campus.

Robert S. Hoek, professor of management science in the SIUE School of Business, will give the commencement address.

Degrees will be conferred by Acting President Andrew J. Kochman, and the names of all attending graduates will be read.

A reception in honor of the graduates will be held at the site immediately following the program.

The honorary degree of doctor of music will be awarded to Goodman for his contribution to American music. As clarinet soloist, orchestra leader, composer and arranger, the "king of swing" has produced music since the 1930s which has had major influence on the American jazz form. Dr. Kochman will present the degree to Goodman at the exercises.

A specialist degree in secondary education will be awarded posthumously to Capt. Roger A. Bailey, who died June 30.

Capt. Bailey, an adjunct assistant professor in the SIUE Air Force Reserve Officer Training Corps program, would have completed all requirements for the degree during the summer quarter. Col. Samuel R. Ross, commanding officer of the AFOTC detachment at the university, will accept the award on behalf of Capt. Bailey's widow.

In the event of inclement weather, the starting time will be the same, but the commencement program will be decentralized, with ceremonies at several indoor locations.

Emil Jason, chairman of the arrangements committee, said that if the program is decentralized, the reception will be held in the Goshen Lounge of the University Center immediately following the ceremonies.

Should a decision be made to hold the commencement indoors, it will be announced by area radio stations after 5 p.m. on Thursday. The information may also be obtained by calling 692-2000 or 692-2739, Jason said.

Ransack dwelling, steal TV, cameras

Burglars ransacked the home of Mrs. Lillian Johns, 2664 Center St., and stole several items, it was reported at 6 p.m. Thursday. Entry was gained by forcing a kitchen window.

Among the items missing are a 12-inch television, a Polaroid Land camera, an instamatic camera and assorted coins kept in a jar. An inventory is being taken to determine what else has been stolen.

DRIVER INJURED
Ronald D. Hotz, 2324 Angela Drive, suffered a minor injury in an accident at 10:05 p.m. Thursday on Pontoon Road near Sara Street. Operator of the second auto was William W. Webb, 3806 John Glenn Drive.

Lindberg seeking debate

State Comptroller George Lindberg, Republican candidate for re-election, has challenged his Democratic opponent, Michael Bakalis, to a debate.

Speaking at a news conference Thursday in Chicago, Lindberg said, "It has become increasingly apparent that Bakalis not only has no knowledge of what the comptroller's office is but is unqualified to be the state comptroller."

"He has been skirting the critical issue of controlling state spending in favor of any trumped-up voter appeal issue he can grasp—no matter how unrelated and irrelevant it is to the comptroller's race. On those rare occasions when he does address himself to the issues, he is usually either inaccurate or unconstitutional."

Referring to a series of audit reports (August 1975) and the Governor's Commission on Schools report (November 1975), Lindberg observed, "When taken together, these reports, which cover all but the last six months of Bakalis' administration as state instruction superintendent, weave a pattern of patronage politics and a failure to properly account for expenditures by his office."

"Also, the report indicates a surprising increase in employment—in spite of the fact that the 1970 Constitution had mandated it to be an appointed instead of an elective office by 1975."

"By contrast," Lindberg continued, "the auditor general in reporting on the first compliance audit of the comptroller's office said, '(we) have been favorably impressed with the achievements thus far by the state comptroller and his staff in implementing the new statewide accounting system.'"

"The report further said the difficulties of establishing a new office 'should be considered in perspective of the generally praiseworthy performance of the comptroller's office during the period under review."

"The fact is," Lindberg said, "Bakalis has never indicated any interest or ability at financial management. Financial management is the essence of the comptroller's function. The comptroller must pay out and account for over $40 million from the state treasury every working day. Bakalis' office was criticized for not having begun able to keep attendance and vacation records properly."

Ebersold home from hospital
William "Mike" Ebersold, mayor of Venice and a trustee of the East Side Levee and Sanitary District, returned home Friday from Missouri-Pacific Hospital, St. Louis, where he had been a patient for the past month. Ebersold underwent surgery two weeks ago.

Because of his inability to climb stairs during a recuperation period, a regular meeting of the Venice City Council will be held Tuesday night at the McKinley Bridge office, 802 Main St., Venice.

In addition, arrangements have been made to hold the 10 a.m. meeting of the Levee board on Sept. 8 in the Granite City Levee district office at 1707 Madison Ave.

A. H. Davis, 49, found dead

Alford Harden Davis, 49, of 2123 East 23rd St., was found in a camper parked at East 23rd Street and Broadway and was pronounced dead at the scene at 2 p.m. Thursday by Randall Irwin, Madison county deputy coroner.

Police reported a man stopped patrolling officers and said Davis apparently was sleeping in his camper truck, but that he and two friends could not awaken him. The friends had left to get a spare key and upon returning they and the police entered the vehicle and found Davis dead in an upper bed in the camper.

Mr. Davis had $80 in cash on him and a check for $37, according to officers.

There will be an inquest to determine the cause of death. He was born in St. Louis and resided here 31 years.

Mr. Davis was a self-employed mechanic and formerly operated the Alcorn Radiator and Automotive Co. He was a member of the Alton Motor Boat Club.

Survivors include three daughters, Misses Kathy, Patricia and Lori Davis, all of Granite City; four brothers, George Davis of Vienna, Mo., Clyde Davis, Granite City, Gerald Davis, Rola, Mo., and William Davis, Orange, Calif.; two sisters, Mrs. Wilma Long, Granite City and Mrs. William (Hazel) Humes of Rola, and his mother, Mrs. Ina Davis of Rola.

Funeral services were held Saturday. Details are given in the obituary column.

BICYCLE IS STOLEN
When Steven Phelps, 3307 Franklin Ave., left Reese Drugs in the Bellemore Village Shopping Center at 7:30 p.m. Sunday, he saw his bicycle had been loaded onto the rear bed of a blue Ford pickup truck with Illinois license plates. He said that when he approached the truck, it sped off onto Nameoki Road and left the scene.

Nameoki ok's $184,416 levy

Tax levies totaling $184,416 for town purposes have been approved by the Nameoki Town Board of Auditors for collection during 1977.

The new Nameoki levies include $115,976 for the general town fund, $54,440 for general assistance and $14,000 for municipal retirement.

The board was told that the first installment of tax money from this year's collections probably will be received sometime this week from Richard Peck, township tax collector. Small sums of taxes collected this year already are being sent to townships by Madison County Treasurer George Musso.

In other business, the board was told the engineers for drainage improvements at the end of Ivy Lane have recommended a new drainage system be installed. Highway Commissioner Albert Bell was requested to contract with the engineers to design such a system.

Contracts were approved on previously opened low bids from Kamadulski Excavating for paving the parking lot; Geisler Roofing Co. to reroof the township garage; and M. B. Corlew & Associates, Inc. to prepare specifications for drainage improvements in the Dobrey Slough area.

Agreements with the Madison County Community Development office were approved, holding the county legally harmless in case of accident or lawsuit concerning street identification signs the county is to install under the uniform street sign program. The signs will carry north and east 100-block identification numbers to aid emergency vehicles in locating addresses.

Bills ordered paid included $4,368 from the town fund, $1,963 from general assistance, $2,550 from revenue sharing, $1,935 from the road and bridge fund, and $1,194 from the special hard road account.

Windows broken

Granite City juvenile authorities are continuing to investigate an incident last week at the Delmar Shoppe, 2301 Delmar Ave., in which a young man was seen breaking the front windows and fleeing. Some candy boxes in the window were scattered about and some candy was believed stolen. The youth did not enter the store.

Based upon a description from witnesses, authorities have questioned one boy, but he has been released pending further investigation. Two 8-foot square windows at the store were broken.

Lead poison tests due here this week

Lead poisoning can cause sickness, brain damage, mental retardation or even death. Its potential victim is any child between the ages of 1 and 6 years, especially babies and infants under 3 years.

Free lead poisoning screening tests will be available for local young children on Thursday and Saturday at locations in Madison and Granite City.

Tests will be given from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Thursday, at the Madison EOC Neighborhood Service Center, Second Street and Madison Avenue, Madison, and from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. the same day, at the Tri-Cities Area YMCA, 20th Street and Edison Avenue, Granite City.

Screening tests also are scheduled Saturday between 9 a.m. and 3 p.m. at the YMCA in Granite City.

Children may be taken to either testing site.

In addition to the above locations, testing will be made available in a mobile unit of the Illinois Association for Retarded Citizens. The testing van will be circulating in selected neighborhoods in the Quad-Cities on Thursday and Saturday, as needed.

Persons knowing groups of children, between the ages of 1 and 6 years, that can be tested at one location are being asked to call 797-4596 with the information. Arrangements can be made to take the testing van into areas where there is a concentration of children to be screened. Mrs. Helen DeRuntz of the Tri-Cities Area Association for Retarded, Inc., said today.

The local association is sponsoring the lead poisoning screening tests here and is also responsible for recruiting volunteer nurses and other personnel to help at the testing sites.

Mrs. DeRuntz asked persons wishing to volunteer their services on Thursday or Saturday to contact her at the previously listed phone number.

Lead poisoning can happen so gradually that sometimes there aren't any signs of this serious health hazard until it is too late.

Children with lead poisoning don't always act or look sick, at least not at first, authorities said. Signs of lead poisoning often show up as a simple thing, such as upset stomach, listlessness or grumpiness in a child.

A child can get too much lead from chewing on chips of paint in the home or apartment. In fact, most buildings constructed before 1960 probably have lead paint on the walls.

These small amounts of lead may not be dangerous to an adult, but to children, especially an infant under 3 years, it is a deadly poison.

Even a small amount is too much, health authorities say. A paint chip the size of a dime contains 100 times more lead than a child's body can absorb safely.

Old painted toys, some newspapers and magazines, dirt and poor quality air also are common and hazardous sources of lead.

In fact, it is so easy for small children to be poisoned by lead, if a family lives in an older building and in a congested area with too much automobile traffic, chances are better than one in three a child has too much lead in his body right now, the health people said.

Prevention is the best protection from lead poisoning. Mrs. DeRuntz advised. Periodic testing is the best way to avoid this serious health problem.

A simple test which takes just a few minutes can give a parent peace of mind and give a child a better chance to live a normal, healthy life, she emphasized. Free transportation can be arranged to the testing sites by calling 797-4596.

The Tri-Cities Association for Retarded is sponsoring the testing program here, in cooperation with St. Elizabeth Hospital, Madison County and Illinois Associations for Retarded Citizens, Illinois Public Health Services, Visiting Nurse Services, Illinois Adult Commission and Madison County Medical Auxiliary.

Veterans urged to check eligibility for benefits

The Veterans Administration has reminded men and women recently separated from military service to double check veterans' benefits for which they may qualify, as well as deadlines that may govern eligibility.

New veterans who have been discharged under conditions other than dishonorable are routinely sent a VA summary of key benefits.

Subsequent communications from VA supply new veterans with certificates of eligibility for GI loans on homes, condominiums and mobile homes and with facts on government insurance and education programs.

In addition, veterans may want to note the following things to do:

Register with the nearest state employment service office as soon as possible after discharge as employment benefits vary from state to state.

Apply to former employers within 90 days for reemployment. Veterans have certain preferences.

Convert Servicemen's Group Life Insurance to five-year Veterans' Group Life Insurance within 120 days. It was noted that those veterans totally disabled have up to a year to convert. Applications should be mailed to Office of Servicemen's Group Life Insurance, 212 Washington St., Newark, N.J. 07102.

Within a year from date of VA disability rating, eligible veterans should apply for special National Service Life Insurance based on service-connected disability.

Apply for VA dental care within one year of discharge date.

Apply within one year for GI Bill educational training. This training must be completed within 10 years of discharge.

There are no time limits for veterans to:

Apply for a GI loan guaranty to buy, build or improve a home.

File a claim with VA for compensation for service-connected disability or disease or to apply for hospital care.

Seek assistance from state employment offices in finding work or to enter Labor Department job training programs.

VA urged all new veterans to contact the nearest VA office or a representative of a veterans' service organization for further details.

Two students in the University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign who completed degree requirements during the summer have been commissioned as ensigns in the U.S. Navy, including Joseph A. Lanahan of Granite City.

Commissions were earned through the Naval Reserve Officers' Training Corps at the same time the students earned college degrees. The new officers were announced by Capt. John W. Orrill, professor of naval science at UIUC.

Lanahan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leroy F. Lanahan, 2523 Benton St., also earned a bachelor's degree in chemistry from the university.

He will report to the Nuclear Power School, Mare Island, Calif., preparing to become a member of the Navy submarine service.

As a student, Lanahan served for a year in the Senate, the campus academic policymaking body.

National Eagles' officers in GC

A coast-to-coast series of "Guys and Gals" rallies will bring the international presidents of the Fraternal Order of Eagles to the Granite City lodge at 6:30 p.m. Tuesday.

Clyde Schmieg of St. Paul, Minn., grand president of the Eagles' men's lodges, and Verna Funke of Tama-Toledo, Iowa, grand president of the Eagles auxiliaries, will be honored tomorrow evening at Granite City Eagles Aerie 1126, at 3538 Madison Ave.

A potluck buffet supper will launch the rally at 6:30, and entertainment will be provided by the Eagleaires Kitchen Band.

The joint Eagle men's and women's rallies will mark the opening of the 50th anniversary year of the Eagles Auxiliary. The women's units were established at the Eagles Grand Aerie convention on Aug. 3, 1926, in Seattle, Wash.

"We are celebrating 50 years of partnership in humanitarian services," Schmieg said in announcing the visiting itinerary.

Highlighting the rallies will be the joint undertakings of the men's lodges and auxiliaries, including raising over $5 million for heart and cancer research through the Eagles' Max Baer Heart Fund and Art Ehrmann Cancer Fund; and raising over $2 million for retarded children and to aid the aged through the organization's Jimmy Durante Children's Fund and the Golden Eagle Fund.

The Eagles are establishing 30 Eagles-CARE vocational schools overseas and also provide scholarships for children of firefighters and law enforcement officers who are killed in the line of duty through the Eagles Memorial Foundation.

Robert Stanton, Eagles Aerie 1126 president, and Mrs. Ruth Paubel, Eagles Auxiliary 1126 president, will preside at Tuesday's rally here.

About 150 members and guests are expected to attend, including representatives of the Eagles' district, zone and state organizations.

New 'Y' schedule for women, girls

"Women and girls have been a part of the Tri-City Area YMCA for many years, and it is not unusual for the 'Y' to offer programs for women and girls in our community," Harold R. Rudolph, executive director of the Tri-City 'Y,' reported Friday. "Although many 'Y's have just begun to program for women and girls, the pattern is firmly established here," he added.

Tuesday and Thursday traditionally are days for women's programs at the 'Y.' From 10:30 to 11:30 a.m. a women's swim is offered and again from 8 to 9 p.m. an exercise program is offered from 12 to 1 p.m. and from 7 to 8 p.m. On Tuesday and Thursday, volleyball, basketball, trampolines and gymnastics are provided for women in the gym from 8 to 9 p.m.

The gym is set aside for jogging daily from 11:30 a.m. to 12 Noon and from 5:30 to 6:30 p.m. Women are encouraged to cover the 24 laps to make a mile and join the 50 or 100 mile club.

Swim lessons are offered on Monday evenings from 7 to 8 for members and non-members. Scuba also is available on Sundays from 5 to 9 p.m. for women who are good swimmers and want to become involved in a new venture, Rudolph said. The sauna is available to all women who use the 'Y' facilities.

Belly dancing and social dance classes are set Monday and Thursday evenings with square dancing on Tuesdays.

BREAK INTO GARAGE

The garage at the home of Henry Amelung, 2229 Lee Ave., was broken into and the ignition lock of his car in the garage was pried open, but nothing was reported missing. Entry was gained by prying open the south door and the tool bench was ransacked.

Elizabeth Ann Ledbetter marries Kevin G. Nicol

GRANITE CITY PRESS-RECORD Mon., Aug. 30, 1976 Page 17

Miss Elizabeth Ann Ledbetter, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William F. Ledbetter, 3216 Harvard Place, and Kevin George Nicol, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Irvin O. Nicol, 3703 Franklin Ave. were united in marriage on Aug. 8, at First United Presbyterian Church. Ursus of mixed summer flowers in pastel shades adorned the altar, flanked by burning tapers in branched candelabra, provided the setting for the double-ring ceremony at 3 p.m. performed by the Rev. Wilbur L. Lear, rector of St. Bartholomew Episcopal Church.

Vocal soloist, Albert L. Stevens III, sang "If With All Your Hearts Ye Truly Seek Me" from Mendelssohn's "Elijah" and "Nimm Jesu Meine Hande", sung first in German and then in English. "Take Thou My Hand and Lead Me". Trumpet soloist, Michael E. Logan of Belleville, a fraternity brother of the groom, played the processional "Now Thank We All Our God" by Bach, "Trumpet Voluntary" by Jeremiah Clarke, and later a trumpet solo, "Langsam" from Concerto for Trumpet by Arutjan. Both soloists were accompanied by the organist, Miss Susan Werner of Millstadt, a sorority sister of the bride. Wedding music used during the ceremony was "Praise My Soul the King of Heaven", "O Perfect Love", "Largo" from Xerxes by Handel, and "Joy of Man's Desiring" and "Zion Hears the Watchmen Singing", both by Johann Sebastian Bach. For the recessional, both trumpet and organ joined in "Ode to Joy" from Beethoven's Ninth Symphony.

Escorted down the white carpeted aisle, which was festooned with strands of smilax and white bows, the bride was given in marriage by her father. She chose a gown of white silk organza, fashioned with a high Victorian collar of Venice lace and a sheer lace ruffled yoke of bridal illusion embroidered with motifs, encrusted with seed pearls. Venice lace appliques enhanced the full bishop sleeves and cuffs, the A-line skirt, and Venice lace bordered the hem and encircled the full chapel length train. A lace and pearl camelot cap held in place a triple veil of illusion edged with seed pearls. She carried a colonial bouquet of ivory rosebuds accented by stephanotis, baby's breath and lilies of the valley. The only jewelry the bride wore was the engagement ring which had belonged to her maternal grandmother, the late Mrs. Gustave Karrer.

The bride selected Miss Debby Baker as maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Tami Richards of Sellersburg, Ind., a cousin of the bride, and Miss Karlene Powell. Serving as candlelighters were the groom's cousins, Miss Lorette Nicol of Edwardsville and Miss Mariel Schreiber of Bethalto. Miss Baker's gown was lime green. Miss Richards appeared in blue, and Miss Powell in yellow. Miss Nicol was in lavender and Miss Schreiber in peach. Except for color, they chose companion floor length gowns of English voile designed with square necklines, full wrist-length sleeves etched in Cluny lace, and a full ruffle of dotted swiss at the hemlines. Each wore a triple veil headpiece which matched the pastel rainbow hues of their gowns. The honor attendant and bridesmaids carried nosegays of white daisies and the candlelighters wore corsages of white carnations, all with coordinated cascading pastel ribbons.

Elizabeth Ann Bodnam, served as flower girl. Her pink floor-length dress was identical to those of the bridesmaids and she carried a pink basket filled with pink rose petals.

Timothy Ledbetter of Ottawa, the bride's cousin, and Shawn Vetter of Collinsville, the groom's cousin, were the ringbearers.

The groom chose his brother, Alan L. Nicol, as best man. Groomsmen were David W. Ledbetter, the bride's brother, and David T. Colgate of Edwardsville. Escorting the guests to their seats were the groom's cousins, Earl Bohn and Dale Bohn of Collinsville and Richard Nicol of Edwardsville.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Ledbetter selected a floor-length gown of aqua chiffon over taffeta styled with a deep "V" neckline and capelet forming sleeves over her shoulders. A shirred cummerbund circled the high waistline, accenting the tulip-tipped A-shaped skirt. Her shoulder corsage was of ivory sweetheart roses.

The groom's mother was attired in a formal dress of apricot Quana complemented with a handkerchief-point capelet of chiffon. She wore a tulle tutu of orange sweetheart roses.

Guest book attendants were Mrs. James Vetter of Collinsville, the groom's cousin, and the bride's cousin, Miss Carole Oney of Wentzville, Mo.

Following the service, the bride's parents hosted a reception for the newly married couple at the Croatian Home in Madison. The groom's parents entertained at the rehearsal dinner at the Round Table Restaurant, Collinsville.

Both the bride and groom received their bachelor and master of music education and performance degrees as honor graduates of the Dean's College, Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville. Mrs. Nicol, a member of Mu Phi Epsilon National Music Sorority, is currently employed as a vocal music teacher at Bermuda Elementary School in the Ferguson-Florissant School District. She serves as parish organist at St. Bartholomew Episcopal Church. Her husband is director of instrumental music at St. Boniface Grade School in Edwardsville. St. Mary's

MRS. KEVIN G. NICOL, the former Miss Elizabeth Ann Ledbetter who was married in an afternoon ceremony at the First United Presbyterian Church. She is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William F. Ledbetter, 3216 Harvard Place.

School, St. Augustine of Canterbury School and Our Lady Queen of Peace School in Belleville. He also plays lead trumpet in the Palace Orchestra at Six Flags over Mid-America and is a member of the "Four Seasons" Dance Band. His fraternity is Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia.

The newly married couple will be at home in St. Louis County following a wedding trip to Florida.

Out of town guests were Mrs. Joseph B. Jenkins, Mr. and Mrs. James W. Richards, Mark Richards, all of New Albany, Ind., Mrs. Donald A. Richards, Sellersburg, Ind., Mr. and Mrs. Donald E. Ledbetter, Daniel Ledbetter, Paul Ledbetter, all of Ottawa, Mr. and Mrs. Austin Rohman, Des Plaines, Mr. and Mrs. William Oney, Mrs. J. R. Ruhl and Miss Edna Minor, all of Wentzville, Mo., Mr. and Mrs. Roy Nicol of Greenville, and Phillip Zirges of San Clemente, Calif.

New criteria set for school meals programs

Quad-City public and parochial schools have announced a policy for free milk and free meals or reduced price meals for children unable to pay the full price of meals and milk served under the National School Lunch, and Special Milk Program.

The schools have adopted a family size and income criteria for determining eligibility of students in the milk and meals programs.

It will apply to Granite City District 9 high, junior high and elementary schools, Venice District 3 high and elementary schools; St. Margaret Mary, St. Elizabeth, St. Mary's-St. Mark's and Sacred Heart parochial schools.

The new family size and income criteria is as follows: For a family of one, the limit of income for free meals and free milk is $3,600, while the limit on family income for reduced price meals is $5,730; family of two, $4,830 and $7,530; three, $5,960 and $9,520; four, $7,130 and $11,110; five, $8,190 and $12,770; six, $9,240 and $14,410; seven, $10,200 and $15,190; eight, $11,150 and $17,390; nine, $12,010 and $18,740; ten, $12,870 and $20,090; eleven, $13,730 and $21,430; twelve, $14,590 and $22,770.

For each additional family member the income limit for free meals and free milk increases $860, and for reduced price meals increases $1,340. Children from families whose income is at or below the levels shown are eligible for free milk, free meals or reduced price meals. In addition, families that do not meet these criteria but have expenses such as unusually high medical expenses, shelter costs in excess of 30 per cent of income, special education expenses due to the mental or physical condition of a child, or disaster or casualty losses are urged to apply.

Application forms have been sent to all homes in letters to parents. Additional copies are available at the principal's offices in the schools. The information provided on the application is confidential and will be used only for the purpose of determining eligibility. Applications may be submitted at any time during the year.

In certain cases, foster children are also eligible for these benefits. If a family has foster children living with them and wishes to apply for free milk and free or reduced price meals for the family, the family should contact the school.

All children are treated the same regardless of ability to pay. In the operation of child nutrition programs, no child will be discriminated against because of his or her race, sex, color, or national origin.

Title IX supervisor

State Superintendent of Education Joseph M. Cronin has announced the appointment of Sue Jones Trout as women's equity supervisor. She will be responsible for Title IX coordination for local education agencies, various colleges and universities and the state educational agency.

Prior to her appointment Mrs. Trout conducted a special project for young women in vocational education with the Research and Development Section of the Adult, Vocational and Technical Education of the Illinois Office of Education. She holds a bachelor of science degree from Western Illinois University and a master of arts degree from Sangamon State University.

Title IX of the Educational Amendments of 1972 prohibits sex discrimination in the admission and treatment of students by education institutions receiving federal financial assistance.

Sex discrimination in employment policies and practices of education institutions also is prohibited.

One of the specific requirements of Title IX is that every educational agency receiving federal financial assistance conduct a self-evaluation involving a serious examination of the agency's policies, practices and programs.

The intent of the self-evaluation is to identify any sex discrimination existing within the agency, to modify any policies or practices that result in unequal treatment of the sexes and to recommend a plan for remediation.

The Illinois Office of Education, under the director of the Women's Educational Equity Task Force, completed its self-study on July 20.

Preparation of this self-evaluation involved the combined efforts of 75 employees throughout the agency, making possible a study of major depth and scope. Implementation of the recommended remediation plan is under way.

Ancient classics to be taught

Who said study of the ancient classics is dead? Certainly not Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

To rekindle an interest in the study of Latin, Greek and the influence of the ancient classics on today's civilization, the university will offer an intensive, in-depth honors program. "The Ancient Classics and Their Influence on Western Civilization."

Dan Havens, chairman of the English language and literature department at SIUE, says the program will enhance the quality of higher education.

To accommodate teachers of Latin, English, modern foreign languages, music and history in area secondary schools and their advanced students, SIUE will offer a beginning course in Intensive Greek I (FL 499) on Wednesdays from 6:30 to 9:30 p.m.

Students will read the first book of the Iliad during the fall and winter quarters as well as a portion of the spring quarter. The remainder of the spring quarter will be devoted to reading an introduction to New Testament Greek.

Latin-less teachers of English history, modern foreign languages or music may choose to enroll in Intensive Latin I (FL 499). Students will read a variety of famous classical, medieval and Renaissance Latin selections. Sessions will meet Mondays from 6:30 to 9:30 p.m.

In addition, three terms of Classical Influence (ENG 499) will be offered Tuesdays and Thursdays from 6:30 to 9:30 p.m. Students will examine Chaucer's The Knight's Tale, Shakespeare's Comedy of Errors, selected books of Milton's Paradise Lost, and Dryden's and Pope's translations of selected books of the Iliad and Odyssey. Additional information on the program on ancient classics is available from the Department of English Language and Literature or the Department of Foreign Languages and Literature.

Madison HS to provide own security at games

Madison High School will use school district security personnel and teachers to assure order at the school's football and basketball games, rather than using Madison policemen, the Madison Board of Education has decided.

The decision was reached after Madison police officers told the board they did not feel the $15 per game the school district was paying them for security was adequate.

Board members said the police officers had requested time and one-half pay for the overtime work, the same as received by officers in some other surrounding communities for high school sports activities.

Superintendent John Palchick of the Madison schools told the board the amount of money collected at the gates for the games is not adequate to pay overtime rates for the officers and suggested school security personnel be used.

Board Member Chester McManaway said the job of the police "is to protect the citizens anywhere in the city. We will just call them if they are needed."

The board also agreed to reconsider the contract for supplying milk to the district for the current school year. The possibility of purchasing coolers, rather than renting them from the milk supplier also is to be studied in an effort to save money.

The administration also was asked to check the prices for various types of commercial meat grinders. Board President Harold Fisk said he believed the district could save money by purchasing meat in bulk and grinding it here into hamburger.

He said he felt the quality of the hamburger also would be improved.

It was determined that all football players in the district must have football insurance coverage, even if protected by a separate insurance policy. The district pays $35 per student in the high school football program and the student pays the remaining $5 of the insurance. The cost for junior high school students is $2 each.

The board also noted school student insurance is mandatory, but can be waived if the student can show proof at the board office that he already is covered by an adequate health insurance program.

It was emphasized that while the student health insurance can be waived, no waivers will be granted for football insurance.

Hurt badly today

Frank L. Green, 29, St. Charles, Mo., underwent surgery this morning for injuries received at 12:35 a.m. today when an auto he was driving went into Interstate 270 near Ill. Route Three struck the rear of a parked tractor-trailer truck.

The truck had stalled partially on the highway. Truck driver, Alexander Colley Jr., 46, St. Louis, was unhurt. Mitchell firemen needed 20 minutes to free Green from the wreckage, using a special tool to pry the auto's dashboard and steering wheel away from him.

He was taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital and then transferred to the Parkland Desloge Hospital, St. Louis.

The St. Charles man was unconscious with multiple facial cuts, a fractured left jawbone, loose teeth, fractures to both legs, broken ribs, fractured nose and many cuts and bruises.

McBride

administration candidate take over control of the union.

The rebel candidate, who has criticized many of Abel's policies, is Ed Sadowski, director of the Chicago district. He is expected to announce his candidacy for USW president after the convention closes.

Sadowski also may organize opposition to the proposal to create the additional two administrative posts, expecting to come to a vote Thursday or Friday.

A head-on battle between McBride's slate and one headed by Sadowski may develop in the Feb. 8 union election.

Negotiations for the basic steel industry will begin a few days after the election, with Abel and the new president-elect heading the negotiating team.

Abel, 68, must retire in June under the union's mandatory retirement age rule.

McBride says he favors a guaranteed minimum income for steelworkers whether through a guaranteed number of hours of work per year, or by direct payments to those not earning the minimum.

The basic framework of the plan is yet to be worked out.

He also supports a shorter work year by expanding vacation schedules to many members.

Howlett here Sept. 7 on dam issue

Michael J. Howlett, Democratic governor nominee, will participate in a breakfast meeting Sept. 7 at Charlie's Restaurant on the site of replacement of a dam and lock south of Alton. The group will tour the dam area following the breakfast.

Howlett commented today: "Over 340,000 Illinois citizens cannot find work. Each of them suffer untold economic and personal hardships."

"Government cannot and should not try to directly employ them, but it has the responsibility to create employment opportunities for all in the private sector."

"Lock and Dam 26 is one of those opportunities. Not only will it provide many jobs during its construction, but it will permit the expansion of many industries — most importantly in agriculture and in mining."

"It will allow Illinois products to efficiently reach markets throughout the world. It will encourage improved productivity on the farm, in the mine and in the factory."

"Action must be taken now because of the deplorable condition of the existing lock and dam structure."

13 robbed at Robin's Nest

Thirteen persons were robbed at the Robin's Nest Tavern, 113 S. Main St., Alton, at 12:45 a.m. Saturday of $808 in cash and numerous pieces of jewelry, wallets and credit cards.

Four men entered the tavern, one armed with a rifle, and ordered everyone to place their possessions on the tables and lie down.

The robbers then gathered up the loot, told the group to stay moving and "count to 30" before moving.

The four fled in a light green Chevrolet toward the McKinley Bridge area. A car of that description went across the bridge to St. Louis.

McBride speaks to salaried staff

All Granite City Steel salaried employees were invited — in four groups — to the Washington Theater to hear a message from President Robert McBride. The meetings were held Friday and today, lasting about an hour each.

The purpose, McBride said, was to discuss topics — of general interest to the salaried staff — about which he felt there might have been some misunderstanding.

"I feel that nothing beats face-to-face meetings with people when you want to clear the air on items of mutual interest," he commented.

Topics included the purpose of a recently instituted program designed to schedule the workload of staff personnel, the profit picture of the Granite City Steel Division and its parent organization, National Steel Corporation, pay policies and recommendations to have merit raises coupled with job performance, and the current results of Granite City Steel's affirmative action program.

A total of about 800 people attended the four meetings.

Deborah L. Rea becomes Mrs. Michael Copeland

St. Elizabeth Catholic Church was the scene of the wedding on Aug. 20 of Miss Deborah Lynn Rea, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Rea, 2532 Pine St. and Michael Lee Copeland, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Copeland, 104 Martin St.

Preceding the arrival of the wedding party Randy Belling presided at the organ and played "Follow Me," "Love Story," "We've Only Just Begun," and "The Wedding March."

The Rt. Rev. Msgr. Lawrence Mattingly officiated at double ring ceremony at 6:30 in the evening, before an altar decorated with bouquets of mixed summer flowers.

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride wore a long white organza over taffeta gown designed with an Empire bodice, high ruffled collar trimmed with Venise lace, long sleeves accented with matching lace.

Her full skirt and chapel train was also enhanced with rows of Venise lace. She wore a bouffant veil held in place with a halo headpiece and she carried a cascade of Marguerite daisies, miniature carnations in shades of blue, pink and mint intermingled with baby's breath.

Bridal attendants included Linda Parish, Pamela Reinhardt and Mrs. Patrick Brarly.

The selected identical designed A-line gowns in pink, blue and mint green.

Fashioned with Empire waistlines, the bodices were made with high collars in the back which opened in the front to create a V-neckline, and short sleeves trimmed with Venise lace.

Each held a bouquet like the bridal bouquet in hues to match their attire.

The flower girl, Eva Doreen Goss, was dressed in a long white dotted swiss frock featuring a hoop skirt and pink lace pinnafore. She held a white basket of rose petals and daisies.

Terry Lee Rea Jr., a cousin of the bride, was the ringbearer.

Attending the groom as best man was Gary Rapp.

Groomsmen and ushers included Lindsay Church, Patrick Brarly, Terry Lee Rea Sr., a cousin of the bride and Patrick Copeland, the groom's brother.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Rea, selected a long yellow knit gown and the groom's mother, Mrs. Copeland was attired in a formal length blue gown. They both wore white carnation corsages.

Rhonda and Lisa Rea, sisters of the bride, served as candeliers.

A reception was held in the evening at Polish Hall in Madison.

The bride is employed at CMC Stereo Center, Granite City, and the groom graduated from Rankin Technical Institute and now works at Vesco's Service Station.

Out of town guests here for the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. William Kirkwood, St. Louis, and Mrs. James West, Milledale, Ill.

U.S. Navy, Mrs. Charles G. Haylock, Scottsdale, Ariz. and Mr. and Mrs. James Goss, East Carondelet, Ill.

Comment and analysis

Aug. 30, 1976

Goods making up nation's high standard of living aren't made by government but some platform planks ignore this

Guest comment by C. E. Blankenship, chairman, Governmental Affairs Committee, Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce — In the past year, some significant things have happened. First, the business community — and in particular the small businessman or woman — has come face to face with the economic impact of labor legislation coming out of the General Assembly in 1975.

Workmen's Compensation costs are almost prohibitive for some businesses in Illinois, and insurance premiums have risen 75 per cent to over 1,000 per cent in some cases. Numerous small businesses have been cancelled and placed in the state's assigned risk pool, where premium costs are so high that going out of business for some is a matter of economics.

Unemployment Compensation cost is equally as high, and the state fund is now borrowing money from the federal government to meet rising costs. Of course, this money must be paid back by the business and by the taxpayer. We are hopeful that unemployment compensation will serve its intended purposes and will not be turned into mere welfare.

We have had meetings with our legislators on these subject matters to keep them informed of needed reforms and changes. So far, these changes have not been enough to relieve the severe economic impact.

We have often pointed out the poor business climate that these and other bills are creating, and as a Chamber of Commerce we don't like to talk about how the business climate in our community or the state of Illinois. We have many competitive advantages in Illinois, and we want to maintain our position of industrial and business leadership.

We have made recommendations and introduced 43 different changes to our legislators. We hope we are beginning to find some common grounds for revisions and improvements on several bills.

The businessman wants and must have remedial action, and over 50 business organizations in Illinois have banded together for unity. The U. S. Chamber of Commerce and the National Association of Manufacturers have made definite plans to merge.

This is an election year and the future of our communities, our state and our nation could well be determined by this election. The present trend toward state and federal controls of our economic system will eventually destroy that system, and the quality of life it has produced.

We hear of political platforms today that will produce federal jobs for everyone at the taxpayers' expense and without any thought of productivity; national health insurance for everyone with no thought of delivery system to support it; federal land control without any thought for private and individual ownership and rights; more food stamps and more welfare for everyone not wanting to work without regard for the taxpayer; and environmental standards that will provide us with all the clean air that existed back in the depression days of the 1930s, and just about as many jobs.

There must be some common grounds where we can continue our economic system, preserve our environment and natural resources, and allow our children and grandchildren to inherit a way of life that has provided us with more freedom and a higher standard of living than any other nation on earth. We sincerely hope the American people wake up to what has been happening and search for this common ground.

Lock, dam should not be delayed on waterway fee issue

Comment by Post-Dispatch — Now that President Ford has put his Administration squarely behind a new lock and dam at Alton, Congress ought to be moved to act on the project.

Mr. Ford urged Congress to authorize $391,000,000 for a new dam and one 1200-foot lock about two miles downstream from the present Locks and Dam 26.

Congress also will be asked to authorize acquisition of new wildlife habitat and park lands to substitute for areas lost or damaged by the downstream construction.

If the General Accounting Office is correct, Mr. Ford's requested authorization may not be enough to complete the project. The GAO estimated it might cost $473,000,000.

But the agency said estimated costs for alternative proposals by opponents of a new dam and lock were far too low; it placed one figure for rehabilitating the present dam at $227,000,000.

For that amount of money the Government, and river traffic, would not get much. The existing dam and lock system is not only aged and deteriorating, but it is also inadequate to move traffic efficiently.

It has afflicted barge tows with costly delays which add to the expense of shippers and their commodities.

A new dam and lock system with greater capacity is needed to handle the traffic that converges on it from both the Mississippi and Illinois rivers.

It is the contention of those who make the Alton lock particularly important. Moreover, construction of a new dam would not interrupt traffic, while rebuilding the old system would do so.

Environmentalists opposing a new dam and lock suspect that the Army Engineers would use it to extend a 12-foot river channel through the Upper Mississippi, but the engineers say they have no intention of doing that. In an case, Congress would have to pass on a deeper channel and should oppose it.

Railroads naturally object to the increasing competition from barge lines, but the undecided issue of whether river commerce ought to help pay for its waterways should not be used to deter a needed waterway improvement.

As Mr. Ford noted, grain equal to 25 per cent of all production bound for export passed through the Alton facility last year. The Alton locks and dam are indeed a "vital link" in the inland waterways and should not be allowed to become a stopper in them.

'Big State' campaign strategy

By AL MANNING

SPRINGFIELD — Political organizations think the new Federal Campaign Act will have a dramatic impact on this fall's campaign.

The most noticeable difference is that for the first time in the history of the nation, taxpayers' money will be used directly to finance all aspects of presidential campaigning.

The impact of the new law, though, affects state and local candidates as well as presidential candidates.

Hamilton Jordan, Jimmy Carter's campaign manager, explained it this way to the members of the Democratic National Committee:

"Because of the new law, we are in the unique position of helping you instead of competing with you and carrying campaign money out of your state. Do you realize the significance of that?"

What it means is that local candidates will clamor to bring the presidential candidate to their town, not only for the favorable publicity, but also for the money.

When Carter comes to Illinois, for example, the local candidates can sponsor a fund-raiser and keep all of the profits for themselves.

Illinois leader in bilingual education

(Illinois Office of Education)

When Maria and Juan Gonzalez return to school this year they'll have a teacher who speaks their own language. That's nothing new to the overwhelming majority of Illinois' 2.2 million public school students. But the Gonzalez children speak only Spanish. For them, trying to learn in a classroom where English is the sole language of instruction has been, at best, a struggle.

With a Spanish-speaking teacher, however, Maria and Juan will be able to learn the fundamentals of education in their native tongue while they also develop fluency in English. In three years or less, they should be able to convert to English language instruction exclusively.

The program credited with making the learning breakthrough possible for the Gonzalezes and for thousands of other youngsters of non-English-speaking background is called bilingual education. With the start of the 1976-77 school year, bilingual programs are required at all Illinois public schools that have 20 or more students of limited English fluency in the same language background.

Statewide, there are expected to be 48 projects involving 390 schools and serving 35,000 students in 24 different languages at a cost of $13 million, according to State School Superintendent Joseph M. Cronin.

Coordination of the overall state bilingual program as well as administration of the $13 million is the responsibility of the Illinois Office of Education which Cronin heads.

Languages in which the programs will be offered are Spanish, German, Polish, French, Italian, Greek, Serbo-Croatian, Swedish, Finnish, Portuguese, Hebrew, Arabic, Assyrian, Pakistani, Thai, Vietnamese, Hindi, Japanese, Mandarin, Cantonese, Korean, Indonesian, Filipino and Farsi. Year ago totals were 62 projects involving 250 schools, 11 languages, 27,000 students and a $9 million funding level.

Impressive strides have been made toward achieving the State Board of Education goal of high-quality bilingual instruction to students whose primary language is not English," Supt. Cronin said. When state funds for each school were first provided in 1970, only $200,000 was appropriated and only five schools with about 500 Spanish-speaking students were served.

"Available funds still aren't sufficient to serve all of the 60,000 to 65,000 school-age children needing bilingual instruction," the superintendent said. Nonetheless, the current appropriation and the anticipated participation level will accommodate those with the most critical needs and will keep Illinois in the forefront of the bilingual education movement nationally.

Instruction in two languages was common as far back as the early 1800s, but current interest dates only to 1963 when the Dade County (Florida) school system introduced the country's first bilingual program since World War II.

Following the overthrow of Cuban Dictator Fulgencio Batista in 1959 and the subsequent deterioration of U.S.-Cuban relations, hundreds of Spanish-speaking families fled from the island for Miami and environs.

The children were ill prepared for English language schools, however, so the Dade County bilingual program was devised. It sought to help reduce high dropout rates, restore self-esteem and foster academic achievement.

The concept gained wide acceptance in three years, and federal bilingual dollars were being allocated. Programs began flourishing in several states soon after.

Illinois' initial $200,000 appropriation quadrupled the second year and tripled again the next year.

In June 1971, the state education agency established a Bilingual Education Section to survey bilingual needs in the state, evaluate the effectiveness of ongoing programs and offer technical assistance.

The staff works with local-level school systems by helping them plan and develop programs as well as by monitoring their implementation.

Assistance also takes the form of helping districts locate qualified teachers and recommending resource materials for use in the classes.

Students in bilingual programs are required to take English as a second language in the early years of their schooling. In the later years, they may take English as a second language or as a foreign language.

Between them, the two sets of provisions stipulate (1) that bilingual programs offer at least 90 minutes of instruction daily in the mother tongue of students with limited English fluency and (2) that students participate in the programs for three years unless they achieve a satisfactory level of English language skills sooner.

Achievement levels are to be determined annually by tests prescribed by the IOE. The measure of success is whether the oral communication, as well as the speaking, reading and writing abilities of a student will enable him to function satisfactorily in English-only classes.

Another requirement directs public school districts to take a census by March 1 each year of school-aged children with

Debate won't prove who is best man

To the Editor:

As the plan for debate progresses between President Ford and President Jimmy Carter, it will be best for the good of the American people that they be forgotten about it, as far as a face-to-face matching of wits is concerned.

Such a debate will not place one of the millions of unemployed back to work, nor the thousands of high school and college students who are in need of jobs.

It will not solve the energy crisis—the rising price of oil—nor the rising crime rate. It will not put more money in the pockets of the millions of Americans on limited and fixed incomes.

It will not prove which candidate will be the better to head government.

So let those sounding brass and tinkling symbols be turned into individual sincere approaches to the 215 million Americans, from East to West and North to South.

Each candidate will then be judged not by a 30-minute televised match-up-wits game, but rather by each man convincing the voters that he is capable and candid in purpose really is in solving these and many other problems of our great country.

Youth hunter safety, conservation

To the Editor:

I was recently assigned as Region IV law enforcement commander with an office in downtown Alton (34 W. Broadway).

Region IV consists of 25 counties in west central Illinois stretching along the Mississippi River from north above Quincy to (south) below Chester and (southeast) from below Carlyle Lake to northeast of Lincoln.

We have five Sergeants and 19 conservation officers in the region. I am pleased to be back in the area.

Although there is a plentiful supply of squirrels, hunting has been slow. We expect it will pick up in September as they begin to feed on hickory and other nut trees.

Dove season opens Sept. 1 at noon. Remember, doves can only be hunted after noon and it is illegal to hunt them with a rifle. Daily limit will be 12 per day and the population looks good. Hunting opportunity will depend on continued warm weather and the crop harvest. Season closes Nov. 9.

Teal season will open on Sept. 11 and run through Sept. 19. Shooting hours are 7 a.m. to 4 p.m. daily, green wing and blue wing teal only. Please watch out for woodpeckers which are illegal to take in teal season.

I am advising citizens. At this writing, we are still waiting on an announcement for the Illinois waterfowl season. I attended a 14-state all-Under 18 Flyway Council meeting in Duluth, Minn., in August at which the states suggested a lower point system for waterfowl. Included were mallard hens and woodducks 70 points, drake mallards 25 points and miscellaneous ducks 10 points.

We are awaiting the decision of the state and U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service to see what the regulations will be.

At the same meeting, we learned that the use of lead shot for waterfowl will be illegal in certain parts of Illinois in 1977. Iron or steel shot shells will be marketed for use.

This law will be in effect in the Atlantic flyway in 1976 and we will watch closely what its effect is there.

I believe it will be hard to enforce unless it is properly written.

A new conservation officer trainee, Thomas Waskolbinger, has been assigned to District 13 and will reside in Martin Acres near Edwardsville. His training will be completed in September and, starting in October, he will be assigned patrol in Madison County.

We are happy to have him with us. Tom was one of eight successful candidates recently hired from the over 540 who applied for the position statewide. He has a degree in forestry from SIU at Carbondale.

One of our biggest tasks at present in supplying hunter information and conservation appreciation courses to area youth.

The legislature passed a law in 1975 that requires all under 18 years of age to either purchase proof that they have purchased an Illinois hunting license in previous years or that they are a graduate of a conservation-approved hunter safety class before they can purchase a 1976 hunting license.

If you have a youngster who needs this class, you should watch the local paper for announcements or call the region office, 618-462-1181, for locations. We hope to have them periodically this fall all over the area.

We solicit the help from any organization who would like to assist in putting on the course. We will supply an instructor and material if they will supply a location and publicity.

The course is free and usually takes two evenings. The course teaches a youngster safety in the outdoors as well as appreciation for our natural resources. It is also being taken in many of our schools.

With the approach of hunting season, let me remind readers that the person who violates is robbing you of your rights to enjoy the outdoors.

If you see someone violate a conservation law, call the region office at 618-462-1181 or any law enforcement agency and ask them to contact our officers.

The time to call is immediately, since a later call is of little value. Readers, do your part for conservation.

Cites discrimination against women

To the Editor:

According to the June newsletter of the Republican Women's Task Force, "The Social Security program discriminates against women in many ways."

"While all wage earners pay into the system at the same rate, benefits are allocated in a way that benefits a couple with one wage earner and a dependent spouse, and penalizes a couple where both partners work."

"Homemakers are discriminated against since Social Security is based on earnings. A woman who is a homemaker is 18 years of age."

According to Phyllis Schlafly, women who keep house and attend to all the needs of their husbands and children "contribute nothing to the system."

The welfare of all homemakers as worthless.

Again, from the Republican Women's Task Force: "A homemaker cannot receive benefits except those based on her husband's work record; she receives no benefits if she is divorced before she has been married for 20 years."

Widows are also subject to discrimination by the system. They are covered by Social Security based upon the spouse's earnings until the youngest child is 18 years of age.

"The widow's benefits then stop until she is 60, or 50 if she is totally disabled."

Homemakers whose children are grown could be widowed at age 40 to face 20 years of living without Social Security. And if they have no marketable skills, they will not even be able to support themselves with a job.

Women, if you need advice about Social Security, contact your Social Security office. Do not believe people who distort the facts and give legal advice without a license.

The information was requested to help identify potential language barriers. The results of the census support Supt. Cronin's contention that "not only do limited-English-speaking children need a bilingual program but in all-English classes, but the speed with which they learn English is retarded by receiving instruction in their native languages."

The number of students with limited English fluency (level one through three) decreased from 37,335 during the 1974-75 school year to 26,491 during the last year, according to the census.

At the same time, there was an increase from 68,102 to 78,718 in the number of students with the highest fluency levels, excluding those in the sixth level.

By language, children from Spanish-speaking backgrounds constituted 90,000 (65.9 per cent) of the student bilingual population.

The next nine largest language groups and the numbers of students reported in the census were Italian (6,941), Greek (6,495), Polish (4,781), Serbo-Croatian (2,815), Filipino (2,581), Korean (2,455) and Chinese (2,012).

Communities besides Chicago in which bilingual programs will be operating during the 1976-77 school year are:

Argo, Arlington Heights, Bensenville, Blue Island, Chicago Heights, Clearing, East Chicago Heights, Evanston, Harvey, Maywood, Palatine, Steger, Wood Dale, Woodstock, Bensenville, Elmhurst, West Chicago, Barrington, Highland Park, Melrose Park, Lake Zurich, North Chicago.

Ask IRS

Q. The company I work for offered its employees a stock purchase plan. We could buy company stock for $20 a share. The market price was $22 a share. I bought some shares and now, 2 1/2 years later, the shares have increased to $24 a share and I would like to sell. How would I report the income I received from their sale?

A. Employee stock purchase plans, such as the one you described, follow special rules. They are not subject to the ordinary gain depends on how long you have held the stock.

One possibility applies to persons who have held the stock for more than six months, and at least two years from the time the company first offered the plan (or, in technical terms, when the option was granted). Under these conditions, you must report as ordinary income, the difference between the option price, $20 a share, and the stock's value when the option was exercised, $22 a share. The rest of your gain from the stock's sale, is reported as capital gains.

What if you do not meet the holding period requirements, the difference between the option price, $20 a share, and the stock's value when the option is exercised (when you bought it, $24 a share, is ordinary income).

For more information, see Chapter 8 of IRS Publication 17, Your Federal Income Tax, which is available at local IRS offices. W

O'Neal urges 'objective' look at state government

By WALTER STRANGE
Press-Record Staff Writer
Positive thinking in all aspects of life and the need for an objective look at state government in Illinois were stressed at the Thursday meeting of the Granite City Optimist Club in the YMCA by Dave O'Neal, sheriff of St. Clair County and Republican candidate for lieutenant governor.

"I keep hearing people say, and I keep reading about what a bad state the United States is in," O'Neal said.

"Well, I've been an American all my life. I have served my country as a Marine. I have been an American businessman and now I am serving my second term as sheriff of the fourth largest county in the state. Through my experiences of life I have found there are four elements that are essential to putting anyone's outlook on life in the proper perspective: accuracy, fairness, balance and content."

"I'd like for the next few minutes to apply these four elements to what is without a doubt the major concern of almost every thoughtful American, the negativism that seems so much a part of our society today," O'Neal told the club members.

"The attitudes today have been fostered and fed in large part by sometimes less-than-accurate, hardly fair, mostly unbalanced, and often times out-of-context statements that gain fantastic credibility, simply because we have come to accept almost every challenge to traditional values as being right; and every support of traditional values as being suspect."

Rites held for crash victim

Funeral services were held at 8 p.m. Sunday at an East St. Louis funeral home for Christine Washington, 28, of 123 Carver St., Eagle Park Acres. She was killed at 10:15 a.m. Wednesday when a fire on her car blew out and the car crashed into a tree in the Cahokia Mounds State Park near U.S. 40 and Sand Prairie Lane, according to state police. She was pronounced dead upon arrival at St. Mary's Hospital, East St. Louis.

Survivors include her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Willie B. Lucille Thomas Washington of Madison; a daughter, Joette Washington of Madison; a brother, Louis Wilson Washington of Battle Creek, Mich.; and a sister, Mrs. Betty B. Polley of Hattiesburg, Miss.

population attends these things. Pornography was, and still is, an anti-social kind of thing that remains for most of us, something outside our lives.

"You might not believe that, to hear the stories and read the articles that are jammed down our throats about the new morality of this age, but those stories are not representative of we the people. They're provided for shock value, so that you'll buy and read and say, My God, are there really such weirdos in the world today? The problem is, it's been so overdone, we're beginning to believe that's the way it really is."

"Tell a story long enough and often enough, and it begins to gain credence. Truth has little to do with it. Fact has nothing to do with it. Emphasis has everything to do with it. And it's the overemphasis of negativism that deserves some spotlighting, some discussion, some accuracy, fairness, balance, and context."

"On sure, we cry about the high cost of food today, and about how much our weekly bill is at the grocery store. But to be fair, another of those newsmen prerequisites, we should point out that we Americans still pay a smaller percentage of our earnings for food, than any other industrialized nation in the world, and we get a far more nutritional diet than anyone anywhere."

"And if we add still another journalistic necessity, accuracy, let's look at that grocery bill for a moment. "Separate the food from it and see what's left. How much booze was included? Or shampoo, or hair spray, or deodorant, or shaving lotion, dog meal, tobacco, cigarettes, pantyhose, cosmetics, or other non-edible foods."

"Food bills? Or grocery store bills? There is a difference, and you know it as well as I do. It's time somebody said so."

"Look, it's not hard to be negative, to throw up our hands and say, My God, what's happening? A recitation of the day's events almost dictates that kind of reaction. But try a little balance, another of these

"There are four branches of government now, the legislative, judicial, executive and the bureaucracy filled with the political bureaucrats assuming ultimate power. We have a lot of programs that need to be looked at by men free from political pressure except by the citizens," he said.

"I have a lot of faith in the voter of today. The man on the street is more informed today, thanks to the media; he can pick and choose."

"The only political promise I'll make is to do the best job I can for all the people of Illinois. "The three major areas of concern I have is education, transportation and law enforcement. Criminal justice is not working in Illinois. Our courts are neither swift nor sure."

"As sheriff, I went to court with a felon who had put a shotgun right in my stomach and the judge said he really did not mean anything by it and turned him loose.

"We need to encourage industries to expand in Illinois. We have lost 45 companies in Southern Illinois in recent years. I have talked to union leaders and if industry keeps moving out, there will be no union members to lead."

"We need to realize we are in a competitive business. We need to balance our budget. Our state has gone from a $450 million bank balance under Governor Ogilvie to a $1 million plus deficit under our present administration."

Among the guests present were the speaker's first cousin, W. L. "Jack" Johnson, Granite City businessman; State Representative Everett Steele (R-Glen Carbon), and representatives of the Breakfast and Evening Kiwanis clubs and the Granite City and Madison-Venice Rotary clubs.

William Monical was program chairman and introduced the speaker. Optimist Maurice Dailey thanked the speaker on behalf of the club.

Optimist President Dave Brooks presided at the meeting.
